

iPhone Headache Diary Study

Do you have headaches? If so, do you want to learn more about your headaches? You can now from anywhere in the world with this new iPhone application!

The app has a pain diary that allows you to conveniently track your headaches whenever they happen and provides helpful reports to help you to identify your headache patterns.

Our study is entirely electronic, so you can participate no matter what country you are from. Follow this link if you would like participate in our research study to test out the application: <http://www.crfh.ca/whi>

Participants will be reimbursed with a $20.00 CAD gift card for their time.
